THE IRISH PAPER MILLS CO., CLONDALKIN, ASK EVERYBODY TO

SAVE WASTE PAPER

It is not only the patriotic duty but is in the individual interests of every man, woman, and child in the country to collect every available Scrap of Paper, so that the Irish Paper Mills may be kept running through this time of shortage of paper-making materials.

THE IRISH PAPER MILLS COMPANY guarantee that packs will be supplied and maximum prices fixed by the Government paid by their Contractors, Messrs. M. Duan and Co.

BANKS, PUBLIC OFFICES, and BUSINESS FIRMS having large stocks of old paper should get rid of it now, as the shortage of paper-making material is becoming very acute, and the problem is to keep Mills running.

THE IRISH PAPER MILLS COMPANY are in a position to guarantee the destruction and repulping of ALL grades of paper, and their contractors will, if necessary, in the case of private documents, prepare the waste paper on the seller's premises and have it taken direct to the Mills and destroyed under the eye of a representative of the seller.

The minimum quantity of waste paper which can be taken in any one consignment is one cwt. Carriage on smaller quantities would be prohibitive.

Send samples, and highest prices will be quoted per return, and cash remitted promptly on receipt of goods.

PLATFORM AND STAGE. | DUBLIN AND DISTRICT, Who and what was Algaroth? Mr. Richard Northcott tells us something of the man and what he did. Francesco Algarotti saw-the light in Venice on December 11th, 1712, and closed his eyes, in Tuscay, on 3rd May, 1763. A man of breeding, and possessed of culture, he know, and was on easy terms with, the distinguished a people of his time-among them, Voltaire, I Frederick the Great, at whose desire be passed nine years at Potsdam, and William Pitt, whose acquaintance he had made in London, and to whom he dedicated the second edition of his "Essay on Opera," published drist in 1755. The "who!" is senswered. The "what?" it is which makes it worth while mentioning him here. Algarotti was a pioneer in that movement for a national opera of which we hear so much tells. The essay which he dedicated to our Pitt is both a forceful and an eloquently reasoned, plea for it. "Let it soffice for me," he says, "to have pointed out the way thus far, having proposed to myself no other vièw than to show the intimate connection that ought to be maintained among the several constituent parts of same among the several constituent parts of

There was a lot of pain, too, in my side, and terrible headaches. Indigestion was another trouble. I did not eat well, and what I did take caused me pain. But the nervousness was what I felt most.
